Memorial Day Celebration Focuses on Keeping Memories Alive

By Dan Oakes

Last year, the remnants of El Nino made for a slight drizzle, but Monday morning was business as usual in Sierra Madre, meaning a beautiful day at the Sierra Madre Pioneer Cemetery to observe Veteran's Day. "The turnout has been growing and growing. I think it's great," said former Mayor Charles Corp.

Also on hand were former Councilmembers Lee Cline and Bruce Crow, as well as the entire present City Council: Bart Doyle, Rob Stockly, Doug Hayes, Glenn Lambdin, and Kris Miller Fisher.

There was a dedication of a plaque of the Army's most decorated veteran, Sierra Madre's Louis Van Erstle.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #3208 Commander Jack Wolfe noted that this year's celebration was a special one. 1999 marks the 100th anniversary of the National Veterans of Foreign Wars. Sierra Madre's post has been in existence for 65 of those 100 years.

Also on hand was Congressman David Dreier, who called Memorial Day "A very important occasion." Dreier commented on the need to encourage the nation's young people to understand the importance of Memorial Day, and added that it is important to "think about where we go from here."

"We have taken a right step in rebuilding our defense capabilities," Dreier added. He called national defense "our number one responsibility," adding that because of the nation's power and prestige that it

Warren Wolf Wins 1999 Trail Race

By Phyllis Chapman

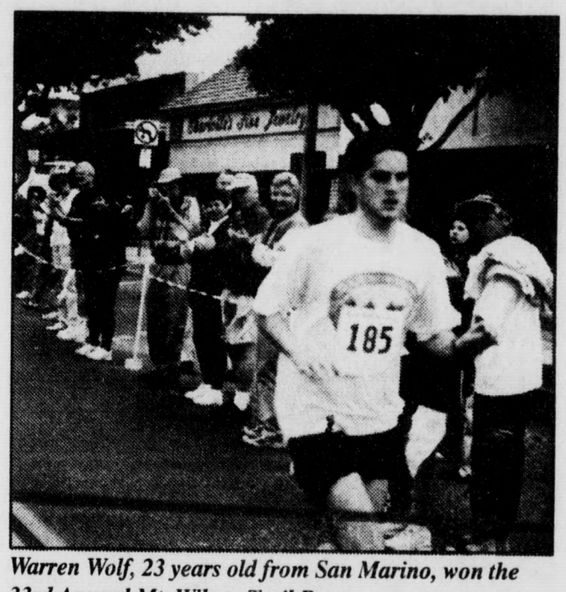

Warren Wolf, 23 years old from San Marino, won the 33rd Annual Mt. Wilson Trail Race to the cheers of a large crowd at Baldwin Ave. and Kersting Ct. His time was 1:06.36.

This year's race, however, had a tragic turn of events. Thomas Beckum, also age 23 and from La Verne, was early on, the way out front runner all during the race. Then, as a lone runner barreling down Baldwin on the last leg, suddenly his physical stamina gave out and he fainted. Our EMT's transported him to Methodist Hospital where he was diagnosed as dehydrated. He was soon fine again. A sad result, though, especially for Wolf, as he and Beckum are friends.

Coming in first overall for women was an exuberant Simone Julian clocking 1:20.10. A mother of four children, she won this race in 1989 and 1991. She now lives in Auburn, California's Gold Country, and drove down to run in this, her favorite race.

Tops for Sierra Madre and placing second overall was 22 year old James Uwins with 1:08.32. Vickie Howard's 1:28.58 placed her first for Sierra

Local Students Recognized by Dreier

By Dan Oakes

Congressman David Dreier's 1999 Youth Volunteer Awards ceremony was held Tuesday night at the Arcadia Community Center. This year's program saw 41 high school students throughout the San Gabriel Valley participated in the ceremony, with almost 1/3 of those students from either Sierra Madre or Arcadia.

Dreier began the annual award program to acknowledge the area's high school students for their volunteer community service. This was the 13th year of the program.

"With the recent tragic events affecting our nation's schools, it is important that we take this opportunity to congratulate and recognize the positive role that these fine young men and women provide our community. Their decision to volunteer is commendable, and I look forward every year to honoring their commitment," said Dreier.

The rigorous application process included an essay on volunteerism, a letter of recommendation, and an interview by a board of community leaders.

Suzy Halajian was one of those students recognized A Pasadena High School student, Suzy is a resident of Sierra Madre. She is a volunteer for the Interact Club, under the guidance of the Rotary Club. She is also a volunteer for the library, and has done community work at St. Luke's Medical Center. Through her leadership and concern for the environment, she started a new club, the Green Peace Club.

Alisha Vass, current Sierra Madre Rose Princess, was given honorable mention status. Alisha is a student at Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy in La Canada. She volunteers both in and out of Sierra Madre, as a director's aide for the Pasadena YMCA, a committee chair for the Wistaria Festival, a member of the Interact Club, and working with the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Organization.

4th of July Honor Fitting Tribute for Heasleys

By Dan Oakes

It's hard to imagine a better pair of Grand Marshals for the Fourth of July Parade than Jim and Barbara Heasley. No, contrary to popular belief, the Heasleys were not born in Sierra Madre, but for all intents and purposes, they might as well have been. Jim moved to town at age four, and Barbara has been here over 60 years herself, so they certainly have enough seniority to claim the Grand Marshal's honor.

As early as age seven, Jim was tagging along with the wagon trains to the various camps along the Mount Wilson Trail, helping out where he could, and catching rides home on empty pack saddles. "They weren't comfortable," Jim remembers of the pack saddles 75 years ago, "but when you're seven years old, it sure beat walking back."

When he was 11 years old, Jim was experienced enough with the trails to get on the payroll, working with other bona fide pioneers. While most children were learning their times tables, Jim was a seasoned veteran of the trail, which in those days was crucial, taking groceries, bathtubs, chemical tanks, and just about anything else that could be used at the camps and 270 cabins on government land up the trail.

Jim did leave Sierra Madre briefly, setting near Pittsburgh for over a year. It was the weather that brought him back to town. He began working at the Shell station on Baldwin and Montecito in the late 1930's, and joined the Fire Department in 1937, following in the footsteps of Jim Heasley, Sr., former Fire Chief and inspiration of Heasley Field, home of Sierra Madre Little League. It was also in the mid-1930's that Jim met Barbara Knight, on a blind date on, believe it or not, April Fools Day.

Jim was no fool, however, and he realized that he had met a special lady, and a couple of years later, in 1938, the two were married. "Everybody kidded me that it wouldn't last," says Heasley, and it's somewhat understandable - the independent pioneer trail master that he was. Jim had the last laugh, however; on Saturday, the pair will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary.

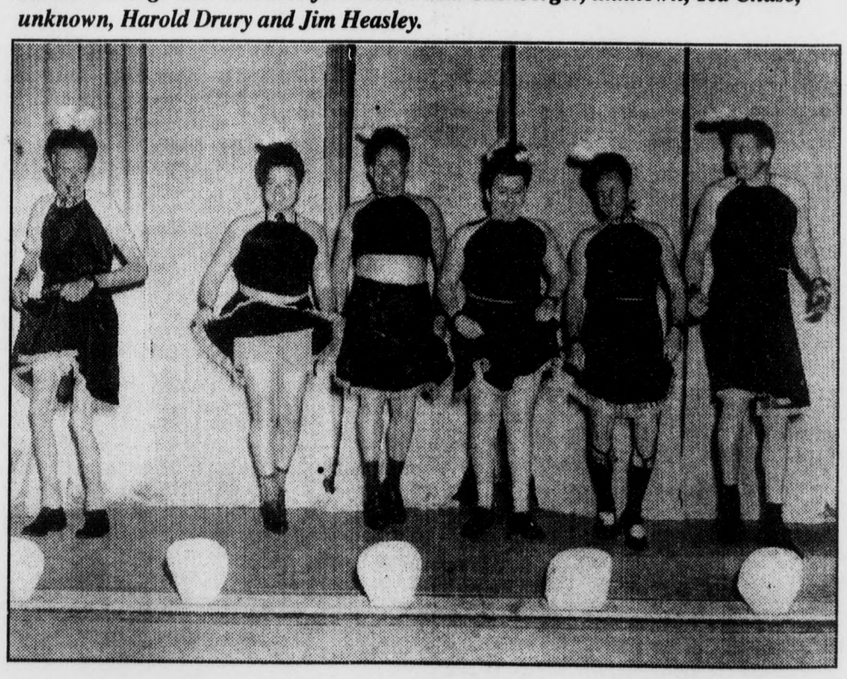

Jim is such a part of Sierra Madre history, and so well known that it's hard to believe that at one point, he was jokingly referred to as "Mr. Barbara Heasley." That's how active and involved in the City Barbara became when she married Jim and moved to town. On May 1st, 1999, by the way, the couple celebrated their 60th anniversary of living in the same house.

While Jim was off with the Navy in World War II, working with the Marines on the beaches of Saipan, Titian, and Okinawa, Barbara was, among other things, running the pool, then located in the Canyon. The youngsters of the war years still remember those times fondly, when you could buy a season pass for $7.50, and the city's parents would drop their kids off in the hands of their very capable lifeguard, Barbara. "Those were the best times we ever had," recently reminisced longtime resident Miner Harkness.

In addition to running the pool, Barbara was a

Madre women. Close behind was Marianne Siberell, mother of two young sons, with 1:31.49. She is the wife of Race Chair and runner Pete Siberell, making this a great family event. In the youngest age category and entering for the second year, winners were 12 year old Keiichi Matsumoto, time 1:16.23 and Audrey Vass, age 13, recording 1:37.53.

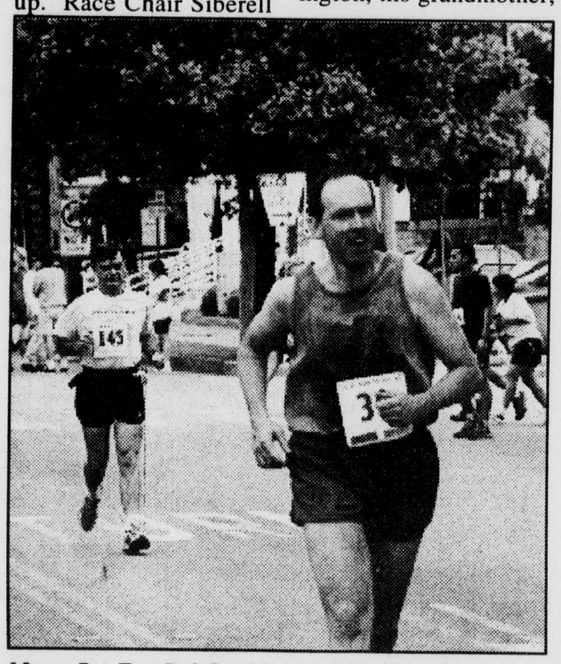

Weather for the race was "June Gloom", sprinkling even at Orchard Camp, the race turn around point, which soon became fogged in. Many runners, including Bob Spears, a Volunteer Fire Dept. Deputy Chief, thought it was a perfect, cool day to run. Although the weather may have been the reason that only 255 of the 290 preregistered runners showed up. Race Chair Siberell

All on hand, — the police, EMT's, Search and Rescue Team, Lara Clardy and her Amateur Radio team, so many volunteers, made this another terrific race, with the well-being and safety of the runners always the priority. Thanks to our long list of generous sponsors. Among prizes given to the top male and female finishers is to be guests at the Raymond Restaurant, 1250 S. Fair Oaks. This historic restaurant is one of Pasadena's finest.

echoed the comments of runner after runner about the excellent condition of the trail. "Everything clicked with the trail" said Siberell, "a great tribute to our very hard-working Trail Crew for their efforts in preserving this Sierra Madre historic treasure." He was very pleased, too, with the large turnout and so many first time trail runners.

Simone Julian took the women's competition in just over 1:20 Shown here with Phyllis Chapman

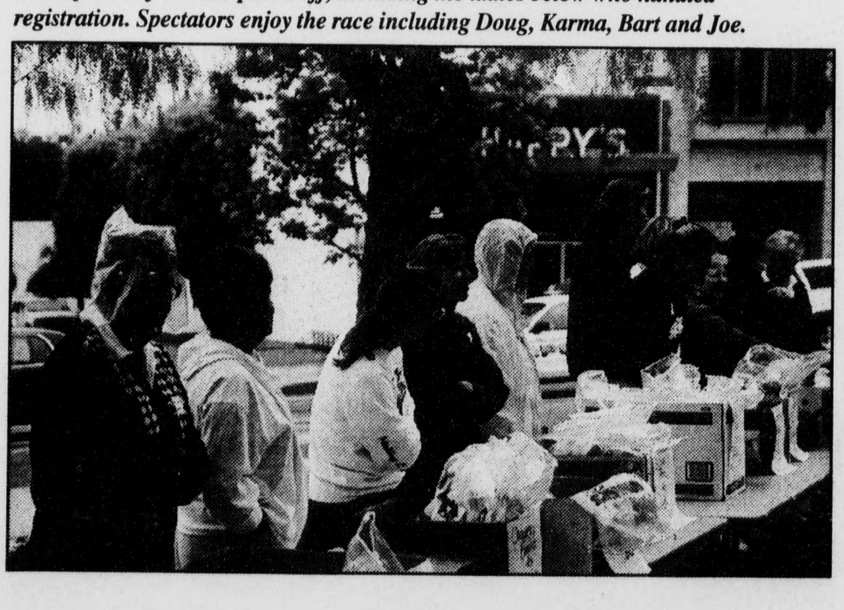

The list of race veterans and the number of years they have chalked up in this race is impressive too. Ralph West, for example has been in 23 straight years. It's almost 25 for Maranatha Coach John Rouse and since his sons, Jeff and Matt have run, its a family affair here, too. Matt, age 15, place third this year in his age group. Another race veteran Art Soderblom did some math. He figured out if we have 250 runners there will be 62,500 passes of runners up and down the trail. Amazingly, no one gets knocked off this narrow

Mayor Bart Doyle did the honors of presenting the prizes to the race winners. He was himself an avid runner for several years until a pulled hamcity's perpetual trophies engraved with the names of each year's winners and the trophies given to the top male and female finishers.

Coming in dead last was 59 year old Ruth Carter, her 13th time to enter. Hardly lucky 13. She vows to work harder and do better next year. Complete race results follow. Race results will be mailed to all who entered.

There are about 20 people on the Mt. Wilson Trail Race Committee, and they all do a heck of a lot of work to pull it off, including the ladies below who handled registration. Spectators enjoy the race including Doug, Karma, Bart and Joe.

From the Editor's Desk

By Dan Oakes

Since it is my intent to use much of the Page Two space this week to talk about the Mt. Wilson Trail Race, I wanted to knock the other tidbits out first. First and foremost among those tidbits is that I promised "Uncle Bill" McKernan that I would be sure to mention that The Great Crate Race would be held on June 6th (that's Sunday!) at Grandview and Stonehouse.

Police Chief King Davis' morning meeting with the community (courtesy of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce) was a success. Davis met Tuesday morning to discuss a variety of issues, including downtown traffic enforcement. "Our first priority is safety," said Davis, "but we want to make sure our officers aren't too overly aggressive." The meeting marks a renewed partnership between the SMPD and the Chamber of Commerce, and Davis will be attending all Chamber of Commerce meetings from now on, or sending a representative. "I think it (the coffee meeting) was a very good opportunity for communication with the community, and we received a lot of feedback and answered some questions," Davis said.

I try to measure and quantify the ways in which we as individuals recognize our aging. For example, one of the first times I began to do this, I had realized that when I was young, nobody I knew ever died. As I went into my teen years, about once every couple of years, someone I was close to would pass away. Now, I'm 30, and it seems that at least a couple of times a year, this is something I have to deal with.

The most recent change I've noticed as I get older is a lot less morbid, but it came to mind at about 7:15 a.m. on Trail Race Saturday, and it's simply this: From the ages of about seven through 13, I couldn't understand how anyone could possibly sleep past 9:00 a.m., especially on a Saturday. There was so much to do! Saturday morning television (Conjunction Junction...what's your function?!), friends to play with (only 12 hours of daylight or so), books to read, things to do. Now, however, I can't understand why anyone in his right mind would wake up before noon. It disturbs me a little bit that I can't recall exactly when this transition took place.

OK, on to the Trail Race! First and foremost, recognition for two unsung heroes. There are about 20 people on the Mt. Wilson Trail Race Committee, and they all do a heck of a lot of work to pull it off. I want to single out two of them, because the one thing I heard all weekend long was that the trail was in the best shape it had ever been in. Such words of praise came from no less a source than Mayor Pro Tem Rob Stockly, an eight-year veteran of the race, as well as numerous other runners. Hats off to Charlie Bell and Pete McNulty, Trail Maintenance.

Did you know that this race used to be a charge all the way to Mt. Wilson, followed by a half hour rest and a race back down?! It was then shortened, and now is from Kersting Court to Orchard Camp and back. This gives new light to my race aspirations; if the Committee ever sees fit to host a race from Kersting Court to Baldwin and Montecito and back, I'm in. Especially if they bring back that 1/2 hour race.

Until Stockly got to about First Water, he was being announced as the Mayor of Sierra Madre! Race announcer Mike Sullivan did a great job, aside from the minor glitch of Stockly's 'promotion' ("That's debatable" - Mayor Bart Doyle).

Incentive #2 to get me to race: The Sierra Madre Brewing Company donated free beer to all the runners! Thank you, Charlie Childs. How about we race from Kersting Court to the Brewery, then start drinking free beer? While I'm making my wish list, can we do it around 2:00 in the afternoon?

Warren Wolf, racing for the third time, inherited the win from Tom Beckum, who fainted at the top of Baldwin in clear first place. Beckum and Wolf were Mt. Sac teammates and had entered the Trail Race together, #'s 185 and 186. It was a very unfortunate ending to the race for Beckum, who was taken to Methodist Hospital and treated for dehydration after setting a pace that nobody could match, even himself. "Tom should have won. He had me by a minute and a half," said a gracious Wolf, whose previous best result was third place.

It didn't hurt Wolf or Beckum that defending champion Matt Ebiner was sidelined with injuries. Ebiner, however, had a great deal of pride, and understandably so, as he has coached both Beckum and Wolf.

James Uwins finished second overall and first among Sierra Madre racers. Uwins grew up in South Pasadena, and moved to town just last August. He has been racing Wolf since age 13 or 14 in high school and college competition. He felt fine at the top of the hill, and decided to "go after some guys" on the downhill. He caught all of them except for Wolf! Nice job, James.

Simone Julian took the women's competition in just over 1:20. Simone has a truly amazing story. After "banditing" (running the race with the official runners, while not signed up. Said Simone "I wanted to see how I would do) the race once, she entered officially for the first time in 1989. She ran again in 1991, and last Saturday was her third official attempt. What's so amazing about that? She won the race all three times, a decade apart! Now that's a success story. Simone credits her performance to "ideal race conditions," referring to the light rain and cloud cover. Simone, who has problems with dehydration, says that she "would have had problems" had it been sunny and warm.

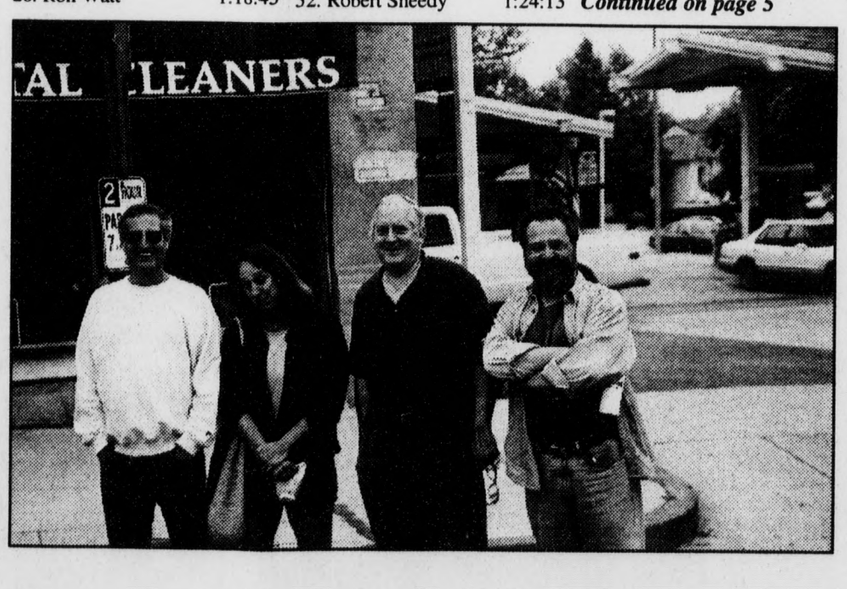

John Rouse has run over 20 Trail Races. This was the year that he thought son Matthew, age 15 and already a veteran of the Trail Race, would catch him. Last year, John finished 10 minutes ahead of Matthew. This year, Matthew cut the gap to three minutes, but couldn't quite take down dad, who is the athletic director at Maranatha High School, from which many successful trail races have graduated and participated in an exceptional cross country program, including 19 year old James Avis, who raced with little preparation and finished sixth. Avis runs at Southern Methodist University, and as he points out, "there aren't any hills in Texas." He expects to train harder for next year's race, and considers it winnable.

When asked if he ran with Matthew to help pace each other on the Trial Race, John Rouse replied, "No way! It's every man for himself!" John will be trying to hold him off one more time next year, but the smart money might be on a change of finish at the Rouse home.

Fly The Flag Of Freedom

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress "Resolved: that the flag of the United States be made of thirteen stripes, alternating red and white, that the union be thirteen stars, on a blue field, representing a new constellation."

The thirteen-star flag was made obsolete when Vermont joined the Union in 1791 and Kentucky in 1792.

A revision was made that added two stars and two stripes but in this Second Flag act, no provision was made for other states that were sure to be formed and be admitted to the Union.

Many and varied were the flags that were flown during the following forty years. It was 1818 before the new Flag Act permanently set the requirements of the thirteen stripes and a new star for each state.

Fly you flag on this day of commemoration.

was uniquely qualified to be a force for positive change.

Father Spencer Edwards, calling it an honor to be present, told two war stories, including the finding of a concentration camp during World War II, and a mass grave site during the Korean War, incidents and memories that remind him of the debt America owes to its veterans. He also commended the volunteer cleanup crew that prepared the cemetery for Monday's ceremony.

Thus far, 137 veterans' graves have been identified and marked at the cemetery. Wolfe noted that the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post # 3208 is constantly looking to find more veterans' grave sites to honor at the annual ceremony.

The day's guest speaker was none other than Sierra Madre Police Chief King Davis, a Colonel who has seen combat in southeast Asia and the Middle East. His commendations include the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman Badge, and the Master Parachutist Badge.

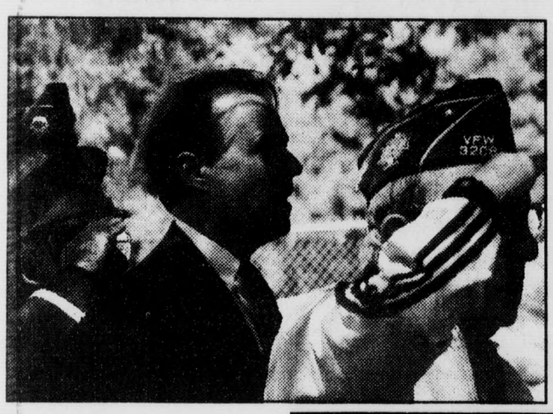

Sierra Madre Police Chief King Davis, a Colonel, has seen combat in southeast Asia and the Middle East.

Recalling the days when Memorial Day was known as Decoration Day, he told of his days in a small town in Missouri, wokrking with his family from sunup to sunset, decorating graves at the Davis family plot, including the grave of his uncle, Samuel, who left home to fight in World War II, and never returned.

"This is a day of remembering those who left their homes, their families, and their futures, and sacrificed all in the name of freedom," Davis added, noting that although he was too young to remember World War II, the stories that adults told during his childhood, with the War just 10 years or so past, made a lasting impression on him, an impression that left no doubt in his mind that when he was called, it would be time to serve.

"I realized at a young age that everything I enjoyed or would enjoy in my life, I owed to them," Davis said.

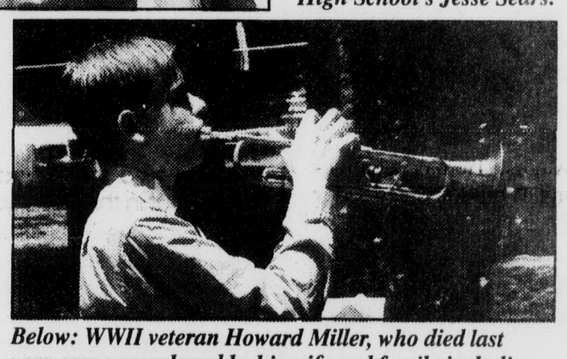

The ceremony included the VFW officers' memorial ritual to fallen comrades, a volley of rifle fire, the dedication of a plaque of the Army's most decorated veteran, Sierra Madre's Louis Van Erstle, and a rendition of Taps from La Salle High School's Jesse Sears. Working with electronic difficulties, the Sierra Madre Chorale, under the direction of Fred Copeland, nonetheless came through with spirited a capella versions of The Star Spangled Banner and Sleep, Soldier Boy. The VFW then adjourned to an open house at their headquarters on E. Montecito.

"Ask your Home Town Plumber"

Q: Do my household drains require regular maintenance? Should I have them snaked out regularly to prevent problems?

A.G. - Hacienda Heights

A: Assuming that your drains are clean and in good condition to start with, I don't believe regular "snaking" is necessary or financially prudent. It is far more important to prevent problems by not putting grease, food debris, coffee grounds and other inappropriate substances into your drainage system. I do think the new non caustic/ non acidic " build up removers" can beneficial as a maintenance product, but not in the absence of good drain use habits. Use your plumbing system wisely and keep your money in your pocket!

To My Friends At Abacus With Love

Dear Pat, Anne, Nan, Barry, and Staff:

Thank you for being such dear reliable neighbors. You have always been right there for me, cheerfully assisting me with all my office needs: photocopying, sending and receiving faxes; taking passport pictures; carrying supplies (including Barry's wonderful monster magnets) and, most of all, making me laugh through your unofficial publication The Pod! I will also remember the yummy goodies that you put out at Christmas time! All of you have truly served my family with a spirit of love.

I remember your fun early days with Balloonatic - and fondly recall your filling my parents' swimming pool with balloons when a couple of friends got married in the garden. I remember Nancy - and how I miss her!

I will sadly miss the wonderful Abacus office team and its personal touch. Love, your customer and neighbor,

Katrelya

Daughter's Visit From Florida To Pasadena — Old Picture of Father

Dear Editor:

While visiting in Pasadena, last week, I was given a copy of your newspaper dated March 18, 1999. The articles Wisteria Festival, 1999 include a picture of my Father, George Warner and an article about him. My children and my grandchildren would each like a copy of the issue.

I am enclosing a check for $5.25 for 4 copies and postage. I hope that you can send them to me. We were all very surprised to see the article. My grandchildren have never known much about my Father. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Anne Olsen

Fitting Tribute for Heasleys

can can dancer in Gay 90's shows to entertain troops and support the war effort. The show was a big hit, written up in various local papers. Probably the most memorable live show was when a crowd of 200 thought that they were coming back on state for an encore, only to find that it was not Barbara, but Jim Heasley taking the stage in a can can outfit with other local men. Anything for a laugh!

Barbara was also the Charter President of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary, and was active in the Junior Women's Club, a forerunner of today's Civic Club. "We just both stayed really active," says Barbara. Jim agrees, "We had so much darn fun around this town."

The Heasleys attend the Fourth of July parade every year, and last year, Jim rode with Sierra Madre Search and Rescue, of which he was (of course) an original member. This year, however, the couple will ride together, deservedly so.

"He certainly to me represents a lot of the history of the town," says historian Dr. Bill White. "What amazes me is his ability to look at a photograph and reminisce in vivid detail about who was involved in the event, where it took place, everything. It's incredible how many historical photographs of the 20's and 30's on up include him."

Barbara, too, kept her table in stitches at the Judy Webb-Martin Citizen of the Year dinner, and certainly those who shared that table will for a seat near her at the next community event. Her memory for the funny and touching stories that make up Sierra Madre's history is the equal of Jim's, which is to say, the two of them could write quite a few books.

If happiness can be measure by a lack of regrets, then Jim and Barbara Heasley are two of the happiest people you could ever meet. Says Jim at age 83, looking at Barbara in the living room of their 60-year home, "You know, if I could live my life over again, I don't think I'd change too much."

Jim and Barbara Heasley way back on their 57th Anniversary.

On Stage

By Mary Cogswell-Baum

Voices from the Past

T.A.C.I.T., Caltech's theater arts department, has two more performances of a play which, like all of their productions, leaves one pondering the state of mankind long after the show is over.

"The Trojan Women", by the Greek playwright Euripides, is some 2500 years old and follows the Greek theatrical conventions, but what keeps it in the list of classics is its constant, unfortunately, contemporary relevance.

The story is derived from the tale of the war between the Greeks and the Trojans, ancient even in 500 BC, brought on, according to legend by the flight of a Greek king's beautiful wife, Helen, with her lover, Paris, to the city of Troy. Bits and pieces of that epic have permeated literature ever since.

Euripides confines his play to the time after all the heroics are over. The wives and sisters of the dead Trojan warriors await their fate, slavery, the usual custom of the time. They bewail all that they have lost, their helplessness at present, and their coming exile from the land they love. They do this with great passion and eloquence, led by Hecuba, their erstwhile queen.

Director Shirley Marneus keeps the dismal recitation not only interesting but affecting in several ways: the spacious outdoor setting which supplies overtones of the past, and the variety of action and the occasional evocative dances with which the performers cover their large stage. Add to this the simplicity with which specific characters emerge from the chorus to tell their individual stories: Karen Kahler as the mad priestess Cassandra, Erica Roluf as the young mother Andromache, Rowena Lohman as the sensuous Helen, with Siobhan Jess and Marjorie Schmeltz as other members of the chorus,led by the stalwart figure of Anita Nardine as Hecuba.

Gless Hightower and Donna Shirley hint at the impersonal manipulations of the gods, and Matt Trewhella has real presence as Menelaous. Adam Burgasser plays the stoic Greek messenger who gradually comes to realize the women's agony.

A group of faceless soldiers provide ominous guard.

Everybody manages to be heard as the Greek actors did, without artificial aides, and the quality of the acting is excellent.

And down through the years the helpless refugees of war after war speak for personality through a Greek playwright who wrote for the descendants of the conquerors of Troy.

"The Trojan Women" will plead their case at 4:PM next Saturday and Sunday, June 5 and 6, in Braun Court near the western end of the Caltech campus. Call the Caltech Ticket Office for information.

The grand opera "Lucia di Lammamore" by Gaetano Donazetti was written in 1835. It borrowed some of its plot from Walter Scott's novel, "The Bride of Lammamore" and the change of title is significant. The role of Lucia is so dominant and so difficult to sing that only the finest divas tackle it. In 1835 the purpose of opera was almost entirely the music, as for true aficionados it still is. Whatever the performers looked like, how good actors they were, was almost irrelevant. Singing the right notes expressively was what counted.

Outside of the knowledgeable music lovers, opera was a social event for the elite, relieved by, but often mocked for, its artificial staging and melodramatic plots.

The Trojan Women

"Lucia" is such an opera. In the old days principal characters would bow to the audience after they had achieved musical feats to acknowledge the applause. They still get applause, but they bow later. Recently opera has managed to become more democratic and more and more popular. Modern directors keep things moving and the practice of showing titles, as in a foreign film, keeps the audience abreast of the plot.

In the current production at the Music Center, soprano Sumi Jo makes a truly remarkable Lucia vocally.She performs the most difficult things with sureness and subtlety and brings startling emotion to the audience. Others provide suitable setting and director Jonathan Alver moves the chorus and principals around picturesquely. Unfortunately, the lighting is kept so low that in some scenes the audience cannot tell what is going on. This may be effective in night scenes with flaming torches, but "dawn" might as well be midnight and even festive scenes are partially invisible leaving the audience frustrated. Lucia wears white but in several scenes she is the only person easily distinguished.

Watercolor Exhibit at Chamber Mixer

An exciting art exhibit will open Thursday, June 10, from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m., at Creative Arts Group, 108 North Baldwin Avenue, as part of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce Mixer. The exhibit, which will continue at the gallery through June 30, will feature the delightful watercolors of talented Sierra Madre artist, Ellen Grijalva.

Ellen, was a scholarship student at the Chouinard Art Institute and went on to work with ceramics, fiber and graphic arts. In an especially challenging venture, Ellen, utilizing her graphic art skills, contributed to the permanent collection of the San Bernardino County Museum's display of Indian life in San Bernardino County.

Ellen currently shares her skills with third through sixth graders in the Sierra Madre Elementary Schools and instructs interested seniors at the Sierra Madre Skilled Nursing Facility.

As an award wining artist, Ellen's watercolors are often exhibited in shows and galleries in the Los Angeles area. Ellen and her work was honored most recently when she was chosen to be the Featured Artist at this year's Sierra Madre Art Fair.

The opening and reception at Creative Arts on June 15 is a designated Chamber Mixer for which a $5 donation is collected by, and for, the Sierra Madre Chamber.

To See- Or Not To See

By Karol Ballard

NOTTING HILL

JULIA ROBERTS, HUGH GRANT, HUGH BONNEVILLE, EMMA CHAMBERS, JAMES DREYFUS, RHYS IFANS

See! If you liked "4 Weddings and a Funeral" and "Pretty Woman," you'll love this one. In fact, all the characters surrounding Grant are the exact same as "4 Weddings, etc.", but that's cool. And there's the "Pretty..." theme of the 'Aves finding love amongst the 'Ave Nots. As Bill Murray would say, "A Cinderella story. Yeah." (A FAMOUS ACTRESS SLUMMING IN THE STREETS OF ENGLAND MEETS RUMPLED BOY, GETS BOY, LOSES BOY, TOYS W/ BOY, ETC.)

Billed as a romantic comedy, that's what ya get, but I'm gonna go out on a limb and say this may go down as a classic. There was so much attention to detail that I believe when you see it again, the symbolisms will jump out at you. It is one of those films that you'll say, "I see something else, get something more out of it every time I watch it." Grant is the same ol', but that schtick worked for Cary Grant (Ooo, ooo! Hugh GRANT, Cary GRANT!) and how we looked forward to it. Julia is occasionally mediocre, but when she cranks it up a notch, you're gonna feel what that character feels down to the core.

This film could be considered superficial schlock, if that's what you're looking for. It's profound and beautiful, too. Just depends on whether you've taken the blue pill or the red pill.

Nature Photographs Displayed At Library

Photographs by Richard Mittelman of Hastings Ranch grace the entrance to the Sierra Madre Library for the month of June.

Dr. Mittelman records his travels near and far with pictures of animals, flowers, and landscapes, including this selection of photographs from Africa, California and Oregon, on display to the public.

The Sierra Madre Public Library is located at 440 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. For further information, please call (626) 355-7186 after 11 a.m.

The Ice House — The Lovemaster!

The Legendary Ice House proudly welcomes back Craig Shoemaker "The Lovemaster" for a special engagement June 10-13.

Craig Shoemaker is one of the few stand up comedians people request all year. His act covers the full spectrum of jokes, life observations, singing, and impressions. For this reason he plays to packed houses and has developed a loyal fan base known as "Club Shoe." Today, after a brief sting as sidekick to Magic Johnson on "The Magic Hour" and hosting a game show, "My Generation" on VH-1, Craig was most recently seen in a feature role in the HBO move "Safe House" with Patrick Stewart.

With a comedy club audience Craig Shoemaker drops the facade of being a normal guy and transforms himself into character after character. From Sean Connery to Barney Fife. He does over 100 distinct and dead on impressions. The Chicago Tribune once described him as "A crowd in a face."

Interestingly, the voice that gave him his nickname is not a famous name at all. Everyone eagerly awaits the appearance of "The Lovemaster," his signature voice from the depths. There is a quick warning of his arrival. Craig's eyes narrow, his voice lowers to a drawl so deep it could make Barry White jealous ... "Hey baby! You look so good my eyes are getting fat."

This versatile comedian has released a CD "Craig Shoemaker Meets the Lovemaster" which is still selling well and last year starred in an independent feature film based on his popular comedy alter-ego. "The Lovemaster" was directed by Michael Goldberg (Cool Runnings) and costars Farrah Fawcett and Kurt Rambis. His film, like his stand up, is based on his own life experiences. Whether he's reminiscing about growing up male in an all female household or his pot smoking granny, the audience can't get enough.

Show time Thurs. is 8:30; Fri. 8:30 & 10:30; Sat. 7, 9, & 11:00; Sun 7 & 9:00. This is a Special Evant - all tickets are $16.50. There is a two drink minimum and advance sale tickets are recommended. Free parking is always available. For reservations or information call (626) 577-1894 or visit our web site at www.comedy.com/icehouse.

In Concert At Bean Town — Clara Violordion

To be held on Thursday, June 10th at 8:00 p.m. at Beantown.

Nick Ariondo, accordionist and composer has received numerous awards for his arrangements, compositions, and performances. He is the first American to win Italy's Ancona prize. Eminent conductor Zubin Mehta call him "a brilliant success". With his creativity and exploration of all musical styles, Mr. Ariondo has brought about a new interest and understanding of the accordion.

Jean Sudbury

Jean Sudbury, violinist has performed in recitals, clubs, concert halls of all different venues in a wide variety of styles. She gave what critics called "an intensely musical performance" with Maurice Abravenal and the Utah Symphony while she was still in her teens. As a free-lance musician in Los Angeles she has played for a large number of movie scores. She's been on stage and in the studios with solo artists of all kinds of music. One of her more unusual chamber music performances was as a warm-up act for "Meatloaf."

Larry Hughes, clarinetist received his Master's Degree in Music from New England Conservatory. He is on the faculty at P.C.C. and he also plays in the Santa Barbara Chamber Orchestra.

Jean and Larry have played together in musical theatre orchestras which include: Ragtime, Sunset Boulevard, Phantom of the Opera, Crazy for You, Miss Saigon, Showboat, and The Secret Garden along with several productions with the Long Beach Civic Light Opera.

Rock & Roll At Dilbeck Realtors Better Homes & Garden's Sock Hop

City officials, chamber members and Dilbeck agents put on their Letterman Jackets & saddle shoes, rolled up their jeans, and joined the fun at this month's Arcadia Chamber of Commerce's mixer, last week hosted by Dilbeck Realtors Better Homes & Gardens.

An old fashioned Juke Box (sponsored by Ed and Glenda Partridge with Arcadia Escrow) featured Elvis and other 50's "Oldies but Goodies" recording artists while the Dilbeck Diner's Car Hops served mini-high burgers, chilli sundaes and brown cows.

Beverages were hosted by Dilbeck's friends Rafik Tadros and Vince Foley from American Title while chamber member Sandy Snider, with the Los Angeles County Arboretum, won the hula-hoop contest managing to keep the round piece of plastic rotating around her waist for several minutes.

"What fun this mixer was," said Susan Lindsey, manager of Dilbeck's Arcadia office, "Everyone in attendance had the opportunity to step back in time and enjoy some vintage fun of yesteryear."

Sundae Delight - Left, car hop, Shayna Hill served brown cows (root-beer floats) to Susan Lindsey, manager of Dilbeck Realtor's Arcadia office; Valeria Thompsett with the Arcadia chamber; Mikki Porretta Dilbeck sales associate and member of the board of directors for the chamber; chamber executive director, Leticia Pacillas; seated, Bonnie Wilbur, also with the Arcadia chamber; and car hop Brenda Koulax, Dilbeck's director of advertising. Brenda and Shayna roller skated throughout the crowd serving bubble gum as well as the brown cows.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: ARLIE BEATRICE DOLAN AKA ARLIE B. DOLAN
CASE NO. GP007197

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: ARLIE BEATRICE DOLAN AKA ARLIE B. DOLAN

A PETITION has been filed by JOANNE CAMACHO in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles.

THE PETITION requests that JOANNE CAMACHO be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on June 11, 1999 at 10:00 A.M. in Dept. B located at 300 E. Walnut St. Pasadena CA 91105.

IF YOU OBJECT TO the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in section 9100 of the California Probate Code. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in section 1250 of the California Probate Code. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Local Students Recognized by Dreier

Dalia Hegab was one of several Arcadia students recognized. While attending AHS, she also volunteers at the Arcadia Community Center (site of the awards ceremony!), working with senior citizens. She is very much appreciated by her supervisors for her willingness to help, which she says gives her a great deal of satisfaction.

Linda Hou is also a student at Arcadia High School. She is a volunteer for Dr. Jeffrey Tsai's medial office, working with patients, and also works at AHS' peer tutoring program. She has been a teacher's assistant during the summer at Roosevelt High School in Pasadena.

Evelyn Hsu is a student at AHS, and a volunteer at Duarte's Santa Teresita Hospital. As a Junior Volunteer, she works with elderly patients who are dependent on others. She is the treasurer of the Junior Civitan Club, a campus service organization.

Andrew Huskey, an Arcadia resident, is a student at Pasadena Polytechnic High School. He volunteers at Huntington Memorial Hospital in the medial and surgical nursing unit, where he is recognized as a compassionate, mature, conscientious volunteer.

Also commuting from Arcadia is Sunny Hills High School student Benjamin Kong. He volunteers at the Sunny Hills Library, and helps his fellow students in the Project Delta Peer Tutoring Program. He is also a Junior Volunteer at Santa Teresita Hospital in Duarte.

Anubhav Agrawal, a resident of Arcadia who is a student at La Salle High School, was also named to honorable mention status. Anubhav volunteers for Students Against Destructive Decisions, Santa Teresita Hospital, and AIDS Walk LA. At Santa Teresita, Anubhav has volunteered more than 200 hours, and with SADD, he has created an awareness for students to understand the negative consequences of destructive behaviors such as alcohol and drug abuse.

Emily Hsieh, also an honorable mention, is an Arcadia High School student. She works as a peer tutor at AHS, and also volunteers at the Arcadia Public Library, Arcadia Methodist Hospital, and the Los Angeles Arboretum, where she works in the Children's Room and has logged more than 100 hours of service.

Arcadia students dominated the runners-up category, second only to the actual award winner. Four Apaches, Nidhi Agrawal, Catherine Cheng, Danielle Nelson, and Mary Ann Parrille, received runner-up status, out of five total recipients.

Nidhi Agrawal first started her service when she joined the Girl Scouts in 1989. She is a leader in that organization, setting a fine example for others to follow. She has played an important role in the Girl Scouts Daddy-Daughter Dance, and has also volunteered in the distribution of disaster information for the City of Arcadia, as a candy-striper at Arcadia Methodist Hospital, and at Wilderness Park, for a re-planting project.

Catherine Cheng has logged more than 165 hours working with staff and patients at Arcadia Methodist Hospital. She is a member of the Junior Civitan Club, the Youth Disaster Action Team, and the Octagon Club. She volunteers at both the Arcadia Public Library and the Arcadia Chinese School. She believes that a student needs to be not just academically excellent, but also well rounded, which motivates her to pursue her community service.

Danielle Nelson volunteers with children at Santa Teresita Hospital, lending emotional support to those who are frightened about their visits to the doctor. She tutors math at Foothills Middle School, and belongs to the Key Club at AHS, often working with the Kiwanis on a variety of community projects.

Mary Ann Parrille is a volunteer for the Assisteens Auxiliary for the Arcadia Assistance League, and does community service through her church, Church of the Good Shepherd. For the Assistance League, Mary Ann worked for the Bargain Box Thrift Store, and also participated in the Book Buddies program at the Library, reading to young children. She has volunteered for Pasadena's Union Station, helping to feed the homeless, and has also worked on an Apache Indian Reservation.

The 1999 Youth Volunteer Award Winner, Courtneyblair Lodwick, is, fittingly enough, also from Arcadia High School. She has spent countless hours working for the Special Olympics. Well, maybe not countless, but over 2,200 hours. She has become a valuable asset to several other organizations, as well. She has volunteered for the Rescue Mission, assisted with fund-raising efforts for a seeing eye dog program and for the Blind Babies and Junior Blind Association. She is also a tutor at Camino Grove Elementary School, as well as a class representative to her school's student council. She was awarded earlier this year with the Grand Cross of Color Award for outstanding community service.

Special Olympics Torch Run To Pass Through Arcadia

The Southern California Law Enforcement Torch Run, spanning hundreds of miles to benefit local area Special Olympics, will pass through Arcadia on June 6, 1999. The Torch Run is an annual event requiring the efforts of more than 3,000 police runners to carry the Special Olympics torch to Special Olympics Southern California's annual Summer Games Opening Ceremony, June 11, 1999. Supporting the 1999 Torch Run will be Red Lobster Restaurants of Southern California.

The Southern California Torch Run begins officially on June 1st at the U.S.-Mexican border, following a ceremony at the border involving Mexican and U.S. Law Enforcement personnel. A second torch will start from the north in San Luis Obispo County on June 7th. The torches are run throughout Southern California by law enforcement officers and Special Olympians heading towards California State University Long Beach, the site of the 1999 Special Olympics Southern California Summer Games. There, the two flames are combined and one torch is run into Drake Stadium to light the flame of hope and signal the official start of the 1999 Summer Games.

In Arcadia, more that 10 Arcadia Police Department employees will run the torch from Fifth Ave.. and Colorado Blvd. to Las Tunas and Baldwin Ave., along Santa Anita Ave.

An additional purpose of the Torch Run is to generate awareness of Special Olympics and the annual Summer Games, a three-day competition in which 1,500 Special Olympics athletes from throughout Southern California will compete in six sports.

As well as its important role as a prelude to Summer Games, the Torch run is an independent fund raising event. Each officer participating in the Torch Run contributes to the local Special Olympics program, which provides a year-round program of training and competition for children and adults with mental retardation.

Arcadia Public Library Implements New Internet Policy

The Arcadia Public Library implemented a new policy on June 2, 1999 regarding the use of the Internet at the library. The policy requires users to register for a library card at the Circulation desk where they must also read and sign an Internet User's Agreement from before using the Internet computers. All Internet stations provide unfiltered computers, except for one filtered station in the Children's room. The filtered Internet computer in the Children's room is intended to block Internet sites that may be deemed objectionable. Anyone under the age of 18 will need the written consent of a parent or legal guardian to use the unfiltered Internet computers.

The Arcadia Public Library is located at 20 W. Duarte Rd., Arcadia, CA 91006.

Parking Lot Becomes Western Venue For Arcadia Red Cross Fund-Raiser

The parking lot was transformed into a dinner hall, complete with a dance floor and chuck wagon-style barbecue, when the Red Cross Goes Western fund-raiser was held recently at the Arcadia Chapter headquarters.

The Silverados played country music for listening and line dancing instruction. Dancers seemed to enjoy the "Electric Slide," according to Jo Ann Scott, executive director of the American Red Cross, Arcadia Chapter. Among those taking part in line dancing were members of the Red Cross Youth Corps, who also served as hostesses for the evening.

The Youth Corps is a group of Arcadia High School students who volunteer time to do various projects in support of the Arcadia Red Cross. Michelle Sunm is the newly elected president of Youth Corps. Members who helped during the western party were Jean Chen, Jade Chien, Helena Chu, Teresa Lei, Miriam Lieu, Diana Shen, Elaine Tsou and Sunm.

Eva Chinn, Georgia Dunn and Gail Jensen, members of the Red Cross Board of Directors, were co-chairs of the party, which raised funds for the on-going programs and services provided by the Arcadia Red Cross. Proceeds will help support numerous classes in lifesaving skills, first aid stations at community events, blood pressure screening, disaster assistance for local victims of residential fires and Meals on Wheels to local shut-ins.

"Members of the board of directors join me in thanking all of the individuals and businesses that participated in this fund-raising effort," said Scott. "What with an abundance of disasters, nationally, internationally and even locally, as well as declining support from United Way, the Red Cross needs to look for new ways to raise funds to support its programs and services. Converting our parking lot into a western party scene was one of those ways."

Getting into the line dancing routine at the Red Cross Goes Western fund-raiser are Sandy Snider, Gail Jensen and Pat Hrstich. Jensen is co-chair of the benefit, and Hrstich is one of the coordinators of the Arcadia Meals on Wheels program.

HOROSCOPES

June 3-9

Aries - March 21/April 20

In the market for new property? If so, you may hear some good news this week. Romance is looking good for single Aries. New love may be just around the corner. A friend may confide in you towards the end of the week. Be sure to keep confidential words to yourself.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't take a bad mood out on a loved one. If you're feeling particularly stressed, you may be better off keeping to yourself for a while. A former associate may come to you for some professional advice. Probe your own depths through meditation and spiritual exercises.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Don't ignore new opportunities, no matter how small or insignificant they may seem. There could be a diamond in the rough waiting for you. A call from an old friend will make you realize something new about yourself. An important letter that you've been waiting for will finally arrive.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

An unexpected phone call from an old friend will set the stage for the week's events. You may find yourself socializing much more than usual. Communication in the workplace will be easier than before, especially if there has been a recent change. Test results look good.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Although flirting may give a boost to your ego, it may not be too helpful for your reputation Ä especially in the workplace. Watch what you say Ä and how you speak Ä to others. This is especially important on Wednesday and Thursday. Use the weekend to catch up on chores.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Based on your actions this week, a relationship with an acquaintance may develop into more. There's money to be made through an unusual method or source. Stay alert and listen Ä really listen Ä to what people tell you. A long-lost item will be recovered in an unlikely place.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Work hard and get chores out of the way at the beginning of the week so you'll have extra time later on for more pleasurable activities. Ignore gossip, especially if it's from a not-so-reliable source. Stick to the facts when judging other people this week. An interesting, once-in-a-lifetime opportunity will come your way.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Something you thought you couldn't afford becomes obtainable through an unlikely source. But you may find out that the wanting is better than the having. A new understanding in a romantic relationship changes the way you view your partner. Work problems may arise midweek.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Got a case of the blues? All you probably need is a break from routine. Let your spontaneous side take over and do something out of the ordinary. You'll feel as good as new in no time. Seek the advice of a professional if you have important financial concerns.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Someone you've always thought of as unfriendly opens up to you. You'll finally start to understand Ä and like this person. Control jealously in a love relationship, especially if you're involved with a Gemini or Aquarius. A family member may need your help.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Subtlety is your key to success this week. Stay cool and you'll get what you want. A very distant relative may try to contact you with an interesting opportunity. Consider the options before making any commitments. Be firm when disciplining young children.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Trust your own judgement when it comes to making important decisions this week. An unfair work situation needs to be addressed. It's important to speak up sooner rather than later. Domestic responsibilities may be the source of aggravation. Take one day at a time.

SMCC Community Concert and Picnic in the Park

Sierra Madre Congregational Church (SMCC) will host a concert and picnic on Sunday afternoon, June 13 at Memorial Park in Sierra Madre. The concert will be the church's fourteenth annual Festival of Worship, but the first held outdoors.

This year's theme is entitled My Utmost for His Highest, based on the classic Christian devotional written by Oswald Chambers. Chambers wrote this while stationed as a chaplain in Cairo with the British army during World War II.

"This concert commemorates abandoning our lives to God in the tradition of Corrie ten Boom of The Hiding Place and Eric Liddell of Chariots of Fire," says Ken Walker, the minister of music at SMCC. "We hope the concert will inspire people to reflect on the higher calling of serving God."

SMCC performers from all ages will be highlighted in the one-hour concert, including the elementary-aged children's choirs, teenagers from the Young Artist Group, and adults from the church choirs and orchestra.

Residences are encouraged to bring a friend and a picnic dinner and enjoy the festivities; SMCC will provide ice cream and soda. Families with children will have the opportunity to have fun in the park playground. The picnic begins at 5 p.m. and the concert at 6 p.m. Memorial Park is located across the street from Sierra Madre Congregational Church at Hermosa and W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

"The Energy Of Synergy" At The New Foothill Center

Special music is planned by Music Director, Bryan Miller.

According to the Revs. Speer, "Synergy' means two or more acting together, resulting in a total that is greater than the sum of their parts. In other words, by joining forces, we can go further than any of us can go alone."

The Foothill Center, an all-denominational New Thought church now into its 7th month, holds Sunday service at the Sierra Madre Masonic Temple, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd (@Baldwin). Service is at 10:00 a.m., preceded by a 9:30 guided meditation. Funday school is held for children ages 4-12 years, and childcare is also available. Wallace to Speak at Church of the Good Shepherd Forum

by Wendy Renfrew

Dr. Thomas Wallace, psychiatrist at Methodist Hospital, will be presenting "Understanding Violence and Alienation in Our Teens" at the Good Shepherd Forum Sunday, June 6. After all the violence in the schools we have experienced over the past few months, we can't help to wonder if it could happen locally. This presentation is to bring about a dialogue regarding the concerns, fears, feelings, and personal circumstances of those in attendance as a beginning to understand how our teens usually express their pain, alienation, and internal turmoil. This presentation was originally given at Methodist Hospital in April. All parents and concerned adults are welcome to attend. The Good Shepherd Forum is held in Jordan Hall at 9:00 a.m.

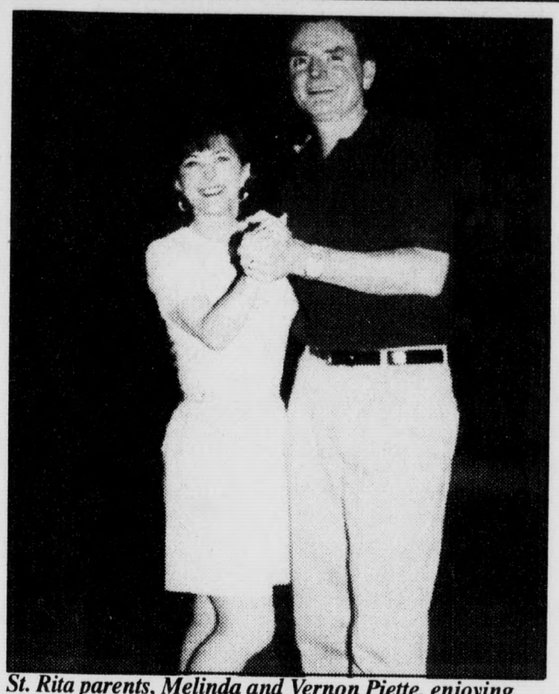

Rev. Phil Wood will be leading the 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. services. The Sacrament of Communion will be given at both services. In keeping with the Methodist tradition, all persons in attendance are invited to participate in the sacrament of Holy Communion.

Leading the Mandarin Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. will be Rev. Matthew C.F. Chong. The Contemporary Worship Service will be held at 11:30 a.m. These services are conducted in Hildebrand Chapel. Also at 11:30 are the Chinese Adult Sunday School classes.

Classes and activities for children, as well as child care are offered at 9, 10, and 11:00 a.m. The Middle School and High School Fellowship group (UMYF) will be meeting at 6:30-8:00 p.m. in the Youth room.

A Grief Group is forming for those who have lost a spouse, child, sibling, or any other loved one either recently, or sometime in the past. Leading this ministry will be Rev. Diane Rehfield from the Riviera United Methodist Church in Torrance. Rev. Rehfield is currently the Minister of Christian Education for her congregation. Before entering the ministry, she was a practicing psychologist and currently holds her Marriage, Family, and Child Counseling license with the State of California. The Grief Group will meet every Sunday evening in June beginning June 6, from 6:30-8:00 in the Library. From this main group, ongoing support groups will be formed. For more information, contact the church office at 447-2181.

St. Rita Day Dance - "Born to be Wild"

By Helen Simmons Conroy

I think we are all born wild. However, as we mature, and attempt to fill roles as parents, and responsible adults, many of us lose that wildness slowly but surely. But luckily, I had a chance to be wild again this past Saturday, May 22, at the St. Rita Day Dance. Spearheaded by St. Rita School PTO President, Mary Bigley, the event was held at St. Rita Church O'Malley Hall. Mary had wanted to give St. Rita School parents, as well as fellow parishioners, an opportunity to come together as a St. Rita community, to enjoy a night of pure fun, with no fundraising motivations attached. Under Mary's guidance, the PTO came together to sponsor the event and made her goal a reality.

With our own St. Rita parishioner and school parent, Peter McAulay as one of the band members, "Jumpstart", performed live music all evening long. Seasoned musicians, they upheld the great reputation they had earned performing at the Sunset Club, disappointing no one who attended. They played many of my favorite songs from my teenage days, songs made famous by performers such as Rod Stewart, Moody Blues, and the Rolling Stones. And by the time they started playing "Born to be Wild", by Steppenwolf, my wild roots were blissfully rekindled - high on the music, high on having spent a great evening letting lose St. Rita style.

Legatus Holds May Meeting

Members of the Pasadena Chapter of Legatus heard two guest speakers at their recent monthly meetings. At the first meeting, Father Bill Moore, Priest and Artist who recently returned from a yearlong sabbatical during which he concentrated on his artwork, presented three of his paintings to the Legatus group and held a discussion on liturgical art.

Fr. Moore uses everyday objects in the patchwork-like squares on his paintings, old schoolbooks, metal boxes, old prayer books, even a vent found on I-5. "My hope as an artist is to show that everything is significant, that we are all redeemed," said Fr. Moore. Relating his art to his profession he said, "I'm calling us to accept our goodness and our sinfulness as people. The more we can find out about each other, the better off we will be." Fr. Moore says his pieces, which are covered with what others might consider is garbage, honor people who build something out of nothing.

At the next meeting, Dr. Jerome Porath, Superintendent of Schools, Archdiocese of Los Angeles, spoke of four things he considers important in Catholic education: the teachers and administrators, the accreditation process, educational technology and the Children's Scholarship Fund (a scholarship program for low-income families).

Lagatus, an international organization, is a lay support group comprised of Catholic CEO's Presidents, and Managing Partners and their spouses.

Legatus was started in 1987 by Thomas Mongahan, CEO of Domino's Pizza chain. The organization has grown to over 1,2000 members worldwide.

Sierra Madre residents Caroline and Charles Norman attend a Legatus meeting.

Here are some results of recent games:

10 and under Division

On Sunday, May 23rd at Dapper Field, the Hots Shots sewed up second place in the 10 and under division of the SMGSA, with a victory over the Invaders 8-1. Lisa Buchicchio won for the eleventh time against only five defeats. Getting two hits each for the Hot Shots were Vicky Moran, Marcella Lentz-Pope and Becky Hernandez. Tori Comontofski had 2 RBI's and Emi Jensen scored twice. Other players getting hits were Lisa Buchicchio, Katelyn Smith, Hallie Schmiedeberg and Whittney Dennis.

14 and under Division

Madison Miller scored the go-ahead run on a throwing error and Jessie Gilbert singled home the eventual winning run in the fifth inning as the Fillies defeated Invasion, 9-8, on 5/25. The Fillies built a 7-1 lead on the strength of RBI groundouts by Christina Cleveland and Acacia Rogers, run-scoring hits by Emily Nelson and Margo Guffin, and Leslie Toms' big three-run double with two outs in the second inning. Invasion rallied to tie the score in the bottom of the third, with big hits from Lauren Rowe (a bases loaded triple) and Misty Gallman (a two-run single).

Emily Nelson protected a slim lead over the final innings, retiring 12 of the final 15 batters she faced. She gave up only one run over the final three innings and fanned 13 in six innings to improve her record to 13-4.

On 5/27/99, Jackie Fisher blasted a two-run homer high over the centerfielder's head to lead the Fillies to a 4-3 victory over Lightning. Trailing 3-2 entering the bottom of the fifth inning, the Fillies' Jessie Gilbert singled and stole second base. Two outs later Jackie Fisher picked out a two-strike pitch and drove it to the deepest part of the field, sliding home ahead of the throw with the winning run.

Lightning jumped out to an early 2-0 lead when Anshu Adhat escaped a rundown score in the second and Rebecca Yost homered down the right-field line in the third. The Fillies tied it in the bottom of the third on RBI singles by Katie Sarkarati, scoring Jackie Cowell, and Emily Nelson, scoring Madison Miller.

Erin Gillespie pitched a six-hitter for Lightning. Emily Nelson duplicated Erin's six-hitter for the Fillies, fanning seven. Emily pitched out of bases-loaded-no-outs jam in the fourth, as Christina Cleveland, Margo Guffin, and Jessie Gilbert worked a first-to-home to third double play. Emily finished with a 14-4 season record and the Fillies finished second in the 14-and-under Division with a record of 14-4-2.
